1. On 15 March 1954, the old and new Reiter Kasernes in Ludwigslust appeared to be occupied to capacity by an estimated 1,800 to 2,000 troops wearing black-bordered black, black-bordered red and red-bordered black epaulets, the latter including some with artillery insignia. During the period under review, 1 x 76.2-mm field gun and 1 x 57-mm AT gun left the installation.

2. On 15 March, the Techentin airfield installations appeared to be occupied to capacity by an estimated 1,000 to 1,200 troops, who wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank and motor transport insignia. In the morning on 15 March, 2 T-34/85 tanks fired in the training area south of the airfield, with each 3 practice shells being fired at two 5-meter mounds about 150 meters from the tanks. After the hits had been inspected by an officer, a new soldier mounted the tank.
